

Do you need your annual and quarterly statement data to be seamlessly and securely accessible to other systems?

Do you need your other systems to automatically update your statement data?

With the Wings Data Connector, you can set up an endless number of custom processes that reconcile your statement data between Wings and your other source systems. Endless possibilities can include creating custom, automatic feeds and reports using your up-to-the-minute statement data.